The screenshot shows the Oxford Journals website interface. At the top right, there is a navigation bar with 'Fudan University' (highlighted with a red box), 'Sign In', and 'Register'. Below this is the 'OXFORD ACADEMIC Journals' header. A dark blue navigation bar contains links: 'Journals A to Z', 'Journals by Subject', 'Customer Services', 'Resources', a search bar with 'All Journals' and a magnifying glass icon, and 'Advanced Search'. The main content area features a large image of a building with the text 'Part of the academic community' and a description of the journal publishing program. To the right, there are three featured sections: 'COVID-19 information hub', 'Frequently asked questions', and 'Open access', each with an icon and a brief description.
